Hair Falling Out Caused by Washing in Infancy, Says Champion Marcel Waver

MISS MARGARET GILLIGAN PREPARING A PERMANENT WAVE.

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, April 14. Would you, dear mother, clean your scalp in soap and water every day in the week, week in and week out?

Of course, you wouldn't! Just think what would become of your hair if you did. It would become dry and thin, and eventually fall out.

Yet, if your case is not exceptional, you are hampering the growth and life of your child's hair by exactly this sort of treatment.

This statement is made as a warning to American mothers, from New York's champion waver, Miss Margaret Gilligan, who recently won a prize of $1000 from the American Master Hairdressers' association.

Many a day Miss Gilligan has transformed 12 straight-haired women into Mary Pickfords, and 2000 heads a year is a fairly conservative estimate, she believes.

She knows hair. Miss Gilligan has delved into all the secrets of the hair. She knows its inner life and reactions. She believes the Caucasian race should naturally have wavy, and curly hair, and that straight hair is an unnatural for us as curly hair would be for an Indian chief.

Baldness and straight hair, she says, are directly traceable to bad care of the scalp in infancy.

"We do something to babies' heads," she told me, "which no sensible adult would do to her own hair. Imagine washing your scalp in soap and water once or twice a day! Yet that frequently happens to the baby."

"Human hair itself is a waste product," she said.

And grows better if it is only reasonably cleansed than when it is washed out. Hair consists of two substances: one is the actual structure, horny and stiff, the other is the fat which fills up the structure, making it soft and pliable.

But Essential
"This fat also permeates the glands and upper layers of the scalp. It is this fat which warm water and soap dissolve both from the hair and the scalp. As washing removes it from the structure, the scalp shrinks, the hair becomes finer in diameter and finally grows denatured and straight instead of true and curly."

"Why does the hair curl at all?" I asked.
"Humidity," she replied. "You see how curly the hair becomes on a hot rainy day. The humidity of the human body should be sufficient to curl normal hair, but it will curl only if in a condition to absorb humidity."

"If we wash the baby's head daily we start him as badly as misguided care can. Straight hair and bald heads naturally follow, and make business for us."

HEADED SCUT

A smart suit for summer is of blue broadened silk. On the jacket the entire pattern of the broadening is followed in small steel heads, and a border about a foot wide about the hem is treated in the same fashion. A collar of gray fox completes the outfit.

Sh! Keep Americanism Quiet! Disguise It With a Foreign Costume and You'll Be in Style This Year

THE SPANISH COSTUME ABOVE IS AS MUCH IN STYLE HERE IN AMERICA AS AFRICA. SO IS THE EGYPTIAN DRESS, BELOW.

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, April 14.—If you are a 100 per cent American, you will have Spanish sonnets, but don't look like a plain American!

It isn't being done this year. And besides you will have to make all your own frocks—you couldn't possibly buy one in the shops.

Plenty Reading Matter
In the first place, nearly all the silks and cottons are printed and most of them specialize in events from ancient history. If a woman could read the inscriptions all over her, she might not feel like wearing so much literature, but fortunately, most of us can't.

The Chinese effect is noticed everywhere in the straight jackets as well as in the little Mandarin hats that are so very smart to say nothing of the quantities of Chinese designs and embroideries used.

Last winter every woman who had a pair of cashmere slacks that weren't working—by that was, for that matter—cut it up to have a coat made of it.

Now they're doing the same with genuine tapestries and oriental wall hangings. Some of the season's most expensive jackets are made of rare old tapestry.

Discreet Effects

Every European peasant woman has been called upon to yield her color and embroidery patterns, and now we are copying the entire costume direct.

The three fashionable silhouettes of the year are all from across the water. The skirt that is scooped up in a front drape and pulled tightly over the hips and back is Indo-China's contribution to our sartorial wardrobe.

The straight-line silhouette is the Egyptian influence, with straight panels and flat trimmings and embroideries.

The bouffant frock and the ruffled ones are mainly of Spanish origin, and Spanish lace and mantillas are also borrowed for the season.

As a country, we are simply too young to have any influence at all. Antiquity is the rage. Our turn may come a thousand years from now.

EGGS FOR SUPPER

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
OF Columbia University.

Allow one hard-boiled egg for each person to be served, and two or three extra ones. In "boiling" the eggs place them in cold water, bring water to a boil and cook gently for 20 minutes. Pour off the boiling water and cover the eggs with cold water, until ready to use.

Remove shells, cut in halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and add melted butter, salt, pepper and any finely chopped bits of cold meat left over. Fill the egg whites with this mixture and press the two halves together. Have ready as many slices of tomato as there are eggs and two or three leaves of lettuce for each serving.

On the lettuce, place the tomato slices and on each slice of tomato place an egg. Pour over this a spoonful of mayonnaise, to which has been added chili sauce or tomato ketchup, allowing two tablespoons of the chili sauce or ketchup to each cup of mayonnaise.

Serve with these eggs olives, and hot biscuits, or bread and butter sandwiches.

SUMMER VELVETS

Velvet hats are to be popular throughout the summer. Not the heavy kind, but a very light, simple sort with a high crown. It is also used for large bows and for trimmings on transparent hats of horse-hair or georgette crepe.

EASTERNISM IN STYLE

Hats seem to have been discarded from fashion in favor of buckles, one of the most of a material, or such effects at the lips only. From the nose and the chin back is the model provided for fall.

Full Sleeves or None at All For This Summer

If sleeves do not cover the hand to the finger joints they do not exist at all. All or nothing, is their motto. Dresses and blouses both make use of the sleeveless line for summer—evening gowns, afternoon gowns, sports wear, simple summer dresses, all feature sleeveless styles in one manner or the other. Several models are sketched: the sleeveless blouse to be worn with spring suits, an evening gown, an afternoon dress.

CABBAGE FOR LUSHERNESS

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
OF Columbia University.

Cook three cups of chopped cabbage for five minutes in three cups of rapidly boiling water to which one tablespoon of salt has been added. Drain, then mix together the following:

Two tablespoons of oil, two tablespoons of butter, one half teaspoon of salt, two tablespoons of vinegar, one teaspoon of sugar, a little cayenne and the yolk of one egg.

Put the above with the cabbage into a kettle over the stove and lightly mix until well heated. This is very good with cold sliced ham or pork.

KNITTED SILK

A very attractive costume of knitted silk is of Alize blue with horizontal stripes of gray woven in the hem of the skirt and the overblouse. Gray ribbon binds the neck and sleeves.

BELTS AND TIES

The smart girl no longer ties her belts to the side or at the back, but in the center front. The collar, too, usually worn in front, however, is now tied at the back in a bow with long streamers hanging to the hem.

HEADRESS

Headbands and small turbans for evening are greatly liked in Paris at the present time. Most of the headbands show the Egyptian influence and Oriental colorings, and the latest use of seed pearls and bright semi-precious stones.

NEWEST BLOUSES

Dainty lace ruffles are used in many ways on the new blouses for spring. Single pockets embroidered or monogrammed are another new feature.

FOR NEGLIGES

Flower printed chiffons are very popular for negligees, made up over dark-colored satins.

OF PARISIAN ANCESTRY

Here is a spring coat with undeniable Parisian ancestry. The collar flaring up about one's ears and rolling back in pointed reverses; the wide, long sleeves, the trim lines about the hips, the dashing ribbon bow—all are unmistakably French.

Coats like these are worn not only with suits but with separate dresses. In a material to contrast with that of the jacket. Both thin and pleated skirts are correct—even draped skirts are good when the coat is of an elaborate material.

Millinery Flivver Is the Very Latest—Hats Are Made and Delivered at Door

MISS LOIS STANLEY

BY NEA SERVICE
GUTHRIE, Conn., April 14.—The old-fashioned peddler who used peddle to descend upon the New England housewives with a caddy of thimble has a successor.

It is now the traveling milliner. With a baggage of hat trunks and an extensive assortment of a kind of roses, forget-me-nots and about a dozen she drives up to the door of a modern frame cottage.

"Anything in hats today?" she queries, and the whole family comes forth to be fitted.

Miss Lois Stanley, who inaugurated the system, says the wicker gave it up for the most exclusive Fifth Avenue "shoppe."

"I get to know the whole family," she says, "and they tell me what they want. I can tell all about them and their individualities. They are not only willing to descend upon the New England housewives with a caddy of thimble, but they are willing to descend upon the New England housewives with a caddy of thimble."

CANADA'S NOTED TENOR WILL SING HERE

Lovers of song will welcome the first appearance in Lowell on April 17, of Paul Dupault, Canada's greatest tenor and a world celebrated figure in the concert stage, who will be assisted by William Blodgett, violinist.

Mr. Dupault's name is well known to all connoisseurs of good music; his fame is world wide, his star having shone over China, Japan, Australia, England, Belgium, France and Germany as well as in all parts of his native country. His Lowell concert will be a part of a transcontinental tour on which he is at present engaged.

The well known tenor is gifted with a powerful voice, highly cultivated and his consummate artistry enables him to lend his soul to the harmony of his song.

To French Canadians his name is a household word and he has also won his spurs before the general public. His rich, low, mellow, and now, at the zenith of his vocal power, he never forgets his plebeian background. Most of his concerts are in aid of charity, as in the present instance. In him, the artist is no greater than the man, as both are merely phases of a noble soul.

His first Lowell appearance should attract a large audience. It is seldom that so worthy a cause finds so meritorious a champion. Let Lowell look on until the S.I.O. sign hangs from the doors of our largest concert hall.

He is the second death in this family within two months time, another son, Thomas J. Mooney, having passed away on February 22 last. The grandfather of the boy also died on March 14 last and these bereavements coming within such a short time have made the child's death of yesterday one that is particularly and sorely felt.

The Looker-on in Lowell

Is it any wonder that the patronage of the Lowell-Nashua railway line has dropped off when the fare has been raised from 17 cents more than the other lines?

The Massachusetts Northern Street Railway company is considering the discontinuance of its Lowell-Nashua line because of lack of support. The fare by street railway to Nashua is 50 cents, while the fare by railroad is only 45 cents. Why should people pay 17 cents more to patronize the Mass. Northern?

Although the competition of the automobile has been working against the Lowell-Nashua line, a difference in rates is the real cause of the slump.

Great Eaters and Drinkers

Just think of every man, woman and child in Lowell consuming a case and a half of ginger ale each year. Using figures for the last three years, the average consumption of ginger ale in Lowell is 100 cases for every man, woman and child in the city. Add to that other brands of ginger ale, and types of their quenchers and perhaps you can imagine what great drinkers we Lowellites are.

Now for the eaters. A particularly well-known local lunch-proprietor recently that it was no longer unusual for him to sell 500 "sandwiches" on a Saturday besides all other orders. What are the figures for the city? It is estimated that this is the case of specialization. See what a lot of eaters in any one day his success might be assured. Some of the lunch-carts, make more money than the restaurants in their neighborhood.

Idherant Carnivals

It is understood that an idherant carnival, so called, is seeking a location on the Lakewood avenue grounds and it is understood to be an appeal to the public for patronage on the ground that part of the proceeds will go to the support of Lowell's orphan children. Why allow any appropriation of this kind to use the needs of Lowell orphans as a lever to draw patronage from the charitable people of this city? Some of these carnivals have shady reputations and it would not be well to establish at our doors even for a week, a disorderly camp operating under the mantle of charity.

Aquatics on Merrimack

There are not many cities that have as good an opportunity as Lowell has for developing aquatic sports.

The Merrimack river in the vicinity of the municipal bath on the lower part affords an excellent course for rowing, sailing and motor-boating. For several miles with only slight departure from a straight line sculls could skim the Merrimack with great speed.

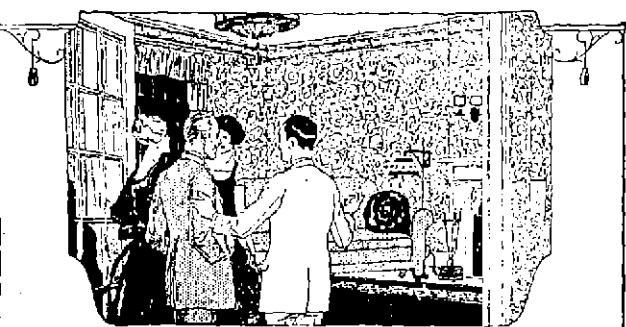

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for constructive purposes.

SMUTS SOUNDS WARNING

Crisis May in the End Ruin

European Civilization, Says

Premier

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 14.—Premier Smuts in a speech here yesterday, dwelt gravely on the "gloomy" developing crisis in Europe, where forces are set going which may in the end ruin European civilization.

The policy of the British empire, he said, ought to be clearly defined to the world, so that there would be no doubts or misunderstandings. "It should speak," the premier continued, "in a sincere, impartial, friendly and in humble loyalty to the cause of peace, before it is too late. I trust it will realize the greatness and glory of its peaceful mission and speak the great word which will be the exception of America. It alone can still speak among the nations of the world."

At the closing exhibition of the work of the blind to be held in Liberty Hall, April 21 and 22 under the management of the state division of the blind there will be on sale tape and coffee—wholesaler's prices.

James T. Riddervold, of Cambridge.

On Mr. Riddervold's success hangs a tale of evil and devotion. His eyesight went out when a German machine gun bullet cut through his right temple. When Riddervold sailed for France, he took with him the heart of a little southern girl whom he wooed and won, and when he came back again a shattered wreck of a man, he found her still waiting for him. He married this little southern girl, Miss Margaret Riddervold, and seven weeks ago became the proud father of a husky baby boy.

Riddervold had an inspiration and an incentive far beyond that of the usual, and with his wife's aid, he began to work in darkness. He found her still waiting for him. He married this little southern girl, Miss Margaret Riddervold, and seven weeks ago became the proud father of a husky baby boy.

WILSON'S VIEWS

ON WORLD COURT

Opposes Pres. Harding's Proposal for "Conditional"

American Adhesion

Favors Unconditional Ad-

hesion of U. S. to Court

Set up Under League

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Former President Wilson is opposed to President Harding's proposal for "conditional" American adhesion to the permanent court of international justice established at The Hague under the auspices of the League of Nations, the Philadelphia Public Ledger says today in a copyrighted despatch from its Washington bureau.

The despatch said that Mr. Wilson's first formal expression on international affairs since the administration submitted its plan to the Senate Feb. 24, was embodied in a letter to Representative Arthur B. House, of Kentucky, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, who is at his home in Covington, Mr. Rouse, the despatch said, had addressed an inquiry to the former president. His reply was quoted as follows:

"My dear Mr. House:

"In reply to your letter of March 29, let me say that I approve of the 'conditional' but of the 'unconditional' adhesion of the United States to the world court set up under the auspices of the League of Nations, though I think it would be more consistent with the aims of the United States for endorsement and courage to become a member of the League of Nations and share with the other members the full responsibilities which its covenant involves."

"Respectfully yours,"

"WOODROW WILSON."

RADIO M. D. CURES MANY

WHO ARE SICK AT SEA

By EDWARD THIERRY

N. E. A. Service Staff Writer—HOBOKEN, N. J., April 14.—Feeling an invalid's pulse by radio and taking a temperature reading by the dot and dash method are the newest steps in medical science.

Dr. William Irwin, ship's physician aboard the liner President Harding, has treated people by wireless on each of his last four voyages across the Atlantic.

It was the first doctor to perform a surgical operation by radio. That was in 1913 when he witnessed from shipboard to an island in the Caribbean Sea directions for the amputation of the leg of an entomologist who was dying of blood poisoning with no medical aid available.

"Thousands of cargo ships do not carry physicians," said Dr. Irwin, "and when a sailor becomes ill his chances are not so good as they used to be. Now a wireless call brings diagnosis and prescription."

31 Bills of Information Drawn

Capt. Shipwith, Exalted

Cyclops of K. K. K., and

Others Named

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—David E. Garrett of Monroe, district attorney for the Sixth judicial district, including Morehouse parish, is en route home today with 31 bills of information charging more than a dozen citizens of Morehouse parish with various crimes growing out of the masked band activities there last year, according to a story published in the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

The bills, the newspaper declared, were drawn up yesterday by Attorney General A. V. Coco and handed to the district attorney who had been summoned here for a conference.

Among those whose names appear upon the bills of information according to the newspaper are Captain J. K. Shipwith, exalted cyclops of the Morehouse chapter of the K. K. K., his son, Oliver, Dr. H. M. McKee of Morehouse, former mayor of Mer Rouge, Louis Calhoun of Bastrop, former deputy sheriff of Morehouse parish; W. P. Kirkpatrick, Kelly Horn, Newton Gray and J. Jeff Burnett, former Morehouse deputy sheriffs.

The names of Ed Ivy, Marvin Picket, Bud Pickett, Fred Higginbotham and Brenton Pratt, also are in the list against whom bills would be drawn, according to the Times-Picayune.

At the open hearing in Bastrop last January, witnesses testified they recognized Burnett, Oliver Shipwith and Gray as members of the

SAYS POLICE IN LEAGUE WITH BOOTLEGGERS

THREAT TO BOMB HOUSE OF DAVID BUILDINGS

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 13.—Any fair and competent investigation in New York city of the charges recently made in the New York legislature that the police are working hand in glove with the bootleg interests, will result in the exposure of police officials and political leaders, declared William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, at a meeting of the New York east conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today.

Mr. Anderson, however, asserted that the cry for an investigation was largely the result of a Tammany "squabble" which would result in the long run for the benefit of the enforcement of prohibition.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 13.—A motion asking that the suit of John M. Hansel against the Israelite House of David, be reopened, was filed in federal court here today.

Attorney H. T. Dewhurst, representing the colony, asserted that he has new evidence tending to prove that Hansel plotted to "bomb the buildings at the colony and make away with large sums of money kept in the vaults there."

An affidavit sworn to by C. E. Leehr, a melior, living in Benton Harbor, accompanied the motion. In it Leehr asserts that on a visit to the colony in 1920, Hansel approached him and asked him whether he wanted "to make some money."

"He said he could get it out of the safe," the affidavit declared. "I then asked him if it was his money, and he said no. I then said I didn't want anything to do with it."

At a later meeting, Leehr asserts, Hansel again broached the subject. "He said," the affidavit continues, "We will cut out the wires so they can't telephone and then we will bomb the building and get the safe."

He again refused to enter the alleged scheme, Leehr declared.

Hansel, according to Leehr, said there was between $300,000 and $100,000 in the colony stronghold.

"The Gingerbread Man!" exclaimed the Muffin Man, "I gave him a year ago last Christmas. I gave him a red tartan coat with cinnamon drops for buttons and white frills out of a candy box. Why does he need more buttons?"

Jack Daw in Candy Land, Chapter 21

Jack and Caramel walked a short distance and came upon a little grove of queer looking trees. "This is Maple Grove," said Caramel, "and all those little brown circles are maple sugars. They hang on the trees until they get just so big and then they swing until they drop off."

At that moment several of the little Maple Sugars started swaying back and forth. "Hello Mister Caramel," shouted one of them, "If you'll wait just a minute we'll swing off of this tree and be down on the ground to greet you and your friend." "All right! Come ahead!" replied Caramel.

And then the Maple Sugars started dropping off. They were so heavy that they made the branches hang low and the short drop to the ground didn't hurt them. After Jack met these brown candies he was startled to see them begin rolling around. "That's how they travel," said Caramel. (Continued.)

MAN IN WHOSE HOUSE POLICE FOUND REVOLVER IS ORDERED TO PAY FINE OF $100

Antonio S. Jardine was found guilty, officer, that he was not a citizen of the district court this morning. He was ordered to pay a fine of $100. ### PLOTS INVOLVING DESTRUCTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY REVEALED

Documents Seized Disclose Plans to Attack London's Lighting Sources, Efforts to Release Irish Prisoners, and Attempts on Lives of High Police Officials—Homes and Resorts of Irish Men and Women Raided—De Valera Eludes Free State Troops

LONDON, April 14. (By the Associated Press)—Documents seized to reveal plots involving the destruction of life and property in London and reported to have come into possession of Scotland Yard as the result of last night's raid on the residences or resorts of Irish men and women suspected of being republican supporters. Among the plans said to have been revealed were plots to attack London's lighting and power sources, the underground power stations, or to release Irish prisoners from London prisons and protect attempts on the lives of high police officials. It is stated that the plots had large ramifications in Great Britain, and particularly in London, and had reached such a stage that a delay of a week by the police might have resulted in the scheme being put into operation. Among the plans was one for attacking police officers in their houses and a proposed future cabinet minister is declared to have been marked for attack. There was a well-organized scheme, it is asserted, to raid a certain London prison either for the purpose of damaging it or for releasing Irishmen detained there. Irish prisoners also were to be rescued from prison camps while being conveyed through London. Preparations had been made for

MAYOR DISAPPROVES INCREASES FOR LABORERS IN WATER AND ASH DEPARTMENTS

Mayor John J. Donovan today made a statement on the question of increased wages for employees of the water works and ash departments and in a statement given out during a discussion of the matter said he cannot approve because of the late date on which the requests have been submitted to him. The mayor does not discuss the merits of the proposed increases, but declares that the finance law prevents supplemental appropriations under its provisions, that estimates for the year must be filed not later than the third Tuesday of January.

"The board of public service should have within the appropriation, it esti-

Sixty Lodgers Driven to Street When Early Morning Fire Threatens St. Charles Hotel Property

Sixty lodgers, many of them women, were taken down ladders and led to safety through smoke-choked hallways early this morning when an early fire threatened the St. Charles hotel property in Middlesex street, now operated by Alexander Kowalewski as a transient rooming house. No one was injured. The fire broke out shortly after its discovery at 1:45 a. m. when three alarms were sent in, calling out every piece of apparatus in the city. The property is owned by George L. Huntom, who could not say this morning what his loss would be in dollars and cents, but a hasty survey of the building would set it in the neighborhood of $20,000. Mr. Kowalewski, who has operated the lodging house for about 18 months, said each of his 12 rooms was occupied last night. He owned all of the bedroom furnishings which were protected by $2000 worth of insurance. He feels his loss will be heavy. Very little personal property was lost by occupants of the house, for many of them were transients and had no belongings other than clothes. The fire had its origin in the kitchen of Chandler's restaurant at 297 Middlesex street and next door to the main entrance to the hotel. The kitchen is situated in a wooden ell in the rear of the building and this was entirely destroyed as the flames swept upward and entered the hotel proper through windows on the second and third floors. Rooms on those floors in the rear also were gutted and the fire traveled through partitions and be-

GIRL, FOUND BATTERED AND BLEED- ING, RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

Tells Wild Story—Involves Drugging, Kidnapping, Imprisonment for Three Weeks, Constant Threats of Being Murdered and Being Buried Beneath Basement Floor—Free-for-All Fight in the Midst of Which She Escaped

NEW YORK, April 14. Miss Ellen Hurley staggered, battered and bleeding from a basement apartment in Greenwich village today, with one of the wildest stories on which even the thrill-loving Bohemian quarter has been regaled in months. It involved drugging, kidnapping, imprisonment for three weeks in subterranean quarters, constant threats of being murdered and buried beneath the basement floor and, for a climax, a free-for-all fight in the midst of which she escaped.

A passerby summoned an ambulance which took her to St. Vincent's hospital where she was treated. Several multiple bruises, lacerations and lacerations. Police a few minutes later arrested Emanuel Olshansky, a Chilean seaman, who was charged with felonious assault.

ASH DIVISION MEN SUE CITY FOR BACK PAY ALLEGED DUE FOR OVERTIME

Employees of the ash department, counsel by Mr. Bruin, who stated that through their counsel, James J. Bruin, since the early part of the year the ash collectors have worked over 48 hours a week and never received compensation for their overtime. This statement was made in the course of an agreement on the part of Mr. Bruin for a wage increase of about $20 each for the 60 employees of the department. Mr. Bruin contends that the amount of labor for all city employees are regulated by a state law and shall not be more than 48 hours a week, and Saturday of May and show cause why and substantiate that statute the ash finding should not be made in favor of the plaintiffs. City clerk Stephen Flynn also was served with a subpoena and have received an extra compensation for their overtime. The suit is in the form of a test case brought in the name of Donald Paquette, one of the 60-day night's meeting of the city employees of the department.

Hair Falling Out Caused by Washing in Infancy, Says Champion Marcel Waver

MISS MARGARET GILLIGAN PREPARING A PERMANENT WAVE.

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, April 14.—Would you, dear mother, clean your scalp in soap and water every day in the week, week in and week out?

Of course, you wouldn't! Just think what would become of your hair if you did! It would become dry and thin, and eventually fall out.

Yet, if your case is not exceptional, you are hampering the growth and life of your child's hair by exactly this sort of treatment.

This statement is made as a warning to American mothers, from New York's champion waver, Miss Margaret Gilligan, who recently won a prize of $1000 from the American Master Hairdressers' association.

Many a day Miss Gilligan has transformed 12 straight-haired women into Mary Pickfords, and 2000 heads a year is a fairly conservative estimate, she believes.

She Knows Hair
Miss Gilligan has delved into all the secrets of the hair. She knows its inner life and routine. She believes the Caucasian race should naturally have wavy, and curly hair, and that straight hair is an unnatural for us as curly hair would be for an Indian chief.

Baldness and straight hair, she says, are directly traceable to bad care of the scalp in infancy.

"We do something to babies' heads," she told me, "which no sensible adult would do to her own hair. Imagine washing your scalp in soap and water once or twice a day! Yet that is frequently happened to the baby."

"Human hair itself is a waste product," she explains.

"It is not a waste product," she explains, "but it is a waste of time and money to waste it."

Sh! Keep Americanism Quiet! Disguise It With a Foreign Costume and You'll Be in Style This Year

THE SPANISH COSTUME ABOVE IS AS MUCH IN STYLE HERE IN AMERICA AS ABROAD. SO IS THE EGYPTIAN DRESS, BELOW.

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, April 14.—If you are a dancer, the Sultan's favorite, or a 100 per cent American, you will have to express your patriotism some other way than in your dress this year.

No matter if your possessions were in the Mayflower party, and if you all your own frocks—you couldn't pay dues in all the patriotic orders, you mustn't betray it in your costume.

Look like Parash's sister, if you will, or a slant-eyed maid from China, and cottons are printed and most of them specialize in events from ancient history. If a woman could read the inscriptions all over her, she might not feel like wearing so much literature, but fortunately, most of us can't.

The Chinese effect is noticed everywhere in the straight-line models as well as in the little Mandarin hats that are so very smart. To say nothing of the quantities of Chinese designs and embroideries used.

Last winter every woman who had a rubbery or cashmere shawl that wasn't working—or that was, for that matter—put it up to have a coat made of it.

Now they're doing the same with genuine tapestries and oriental wall hangings. Some of the season's most expensive jacquettes are made of rare old tapestry.

Peasant Effects
Every European peasant woman has been called upon to yield her colors and embroidery patterns, and now we are copying the entire costume direct.

The three fashionable silhouettes of the year are all from across the water. The skirt that is scooped up in a front drape and pulled tightly over the hips and back is India-China's little contribution to our sartorial well-being.

The straight-line silhouette is the Egyptian influence, with straight panels and flat trimmings and embroideries.

The ruffled ones are purely of Spanish origin, and Spanish lace and mantillas are also borrowed for the season.

As a country, we are simply too young to have any influence at all. Antiquity is the rage. Our turn may come a thousand years from now.

EGGS FOR SUPPER
BY BERTHA E. SHATLEIGH
Of Columbia University.

Allow one hard-boiled egg for each person to be served, and two or three extra ones. In "boiling" the eggs place them in cold water, bring water to a boil and cook gently for 20 minutes. Turn off the boiling water and cover the eggs with cold water until ready to use.

Remove shells, cut in halves lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks and add melted butter, salt, pepper and any finely chopped bits of cold meat left over. Fill the egg whites with this mixture and press the two halves together. Have ready as many slices of tomato as there are eggs and two or three leaves of lettuce for each serving.

On the lettuce, place the tomato slice and on each slice of tomato place an egg. Pour over this a spoonful of mayonnaise, to which has been added chili sauce or tomato ketchup, allowing two tablespoons of the chili sauce or ketchup to each cup of mayonnaise.

Serve with these eggs olives and hot biscuits, or bread and butter sandwiches.

"Then I buy my trimmings, whole, and in that way out even, the mail order catalog.

And finally, by looking my millinery fliver up to say, 'customers, my front doors I'll put out of your mind, you want new hats, and I'll get them to go and get them for them.'"

Miss Stanley is wearing an emerald to see that the wife is fitted.

Miss Lois Stanley who inaugurated the system says she wouldn't give it up for the most exclusive Fifth Avenue "shoppe."

"I get to know the whole family, and in that way out even, the mail order catalog.

And finally, by looking my millinery fliver up to say, 'customers, my front doors I'll put out of your mind, you want new hats, and I'll get them to go and get them for them.'"

Full Sleeves or None at All For This Summer

Copyright by H. H. H. H.

If sleeves do not cover the hand to the finger joints they do not exist at all. All or nothing, is their motto. Dresses and blouses both make use of the sleeveless line for summer-evening gowns, afternoon gowns, sports wear, simple summer dresses, all feature sleeveless styles in one manner or the other. Several models are sketched: the sleeveless blouse to be worn with spring suits, an evening gown, an afternoon dress.

Millinery Flivver Is the Very Latest—Hats Are Made and Delivered at Door

MISS LOIS STANLEY

BY NEA SERVICE
GUTHRIE, Conn., April 11. The old-fashioned peddler who used periodically to descend upon the New England homesteads with a rattle of tinware has a successor.

It is now the traveling milliner, with a baggage of hat frames and an extensive assortment of artificial roses, forget-me-nots and wheat clusters she flivvers up to the door of a modest frame cottage.

"Anything in hats today?" she queries, and the whole family rallies forth to be fitted.

Miss Lois Stanley who inaugurated the system says she wouldn't give it up for the most exclusive Fifth Avenue "shoppe."

"I get to know the whole family, and in that way out even, the mail order catalog.

And finally, by looking my millinery fliver up to say, 'customers, my front doors I'll put out of your mind, you want new hats, and I'll get them to go and get them for them.'"

Miss Stanley is wearing an emerald to see that the wife is fitted.

CANADA'S NOTED TENOR WILL SING HERE

Lovers of song will welcome the first appearance in Lowell on April 17, of Paul Dupont, Canada's premier tenor and a world celebrated figure in the concert stage, who will be assisted by William Blodgett, violinist.

Mr. Dupont's name is well known to all connoisseurs of good music; his name is world wide, his star having shone over China, Japan, Australia, England, Belgium, France and Germany as well as in all parts of his native country. His Lowell concert will be a part of a continental tour on which he is at present engaged.

The well known tenor is gifted with a powerful, vibrant, and melodious voice, and his consummate artistry enables him to lead his soul to the harmony of his song.

To French Canadians his name is a household word and he has also won his popularity before the general public. His rise has been meteoric and now, at the zenith of fame and power, he never forgets his humble beginning. Most of his concerts are in aid of charity, as in the present instance. In him, the artist is no greater than the man, as both are merely phases of a noble soul.

His first Lowell appearance should attract a large audience. It is so good that so worthy a cause finds so meritorious a champion. Let Lowell breathe with the stars when he comes from the doors of our largest concert hall.

The Looker-on in Lowell

Is it any wonder that the patronage of the Lowell-Nashua railway line has dropped off when the car fare between the two cities is 17 cents more than the railroad fare?

The Massachusetts Northern Street Railway company is considering the discontinuance of its Lowell-Nashua line because of lack of support. The fare by street railway to Nashua is 45 cents, while the fare by railroad is only 41 cents. Why should anyone pay 17 cents more to patronize the Mass. Northern?

Although the competition of the automobile has been working against the Lowell-Nashua line, a difference in rates is the real cause of the slump.

Great Patrons and Drivers

Just think of every man, woman and child in Lowell consuming a case and a half of ginger ale each year!

Using ginger ale for the last three years, the average consumption of one brand of ginger ale made in this city, man, woman and child in the city, adds to that, other brands of ginger ale, and types of that ginger ale, and perhaps you can imagine what a great business we Lowellites are.

Now for the salt! A particularly well-known local lunch-curt proprietor whose fame rests on "chambers" said recently that it was nothing unusual for him to sell 500 "chambers" on a Saturday besides all other orders. We are told that this is the age of specialization. See what it does!

If any other business had 500 callers in any one day its success might be assured. Some of the lunch-curts make more money than the restaurants in their neighborhood.

Minerant Carnivals

It is understood that an itinerant carnival, so called, is seeking a permit on the Lakeview grounds and it is understood to be making an appeal to the public for patronage on the ground that part of the proceeds will go to the support of Lowell's orphan children. Why allow any aggregation of this kind to use the needs of Lowell orphans as a lever to draw patronage from the charitable people of this city? Some of these carnivals have shady reputations and it would not be well to establish at our doors even for a week, a disorderly camp operating under the mantle of charity.

Aquatics on Merrimack

There are not many cities that have as good an opportunity as Lowell has for developing aquatic sports.

The Merrimack river in the vicinity of the municipal bath on the boulevard affords an excellent course for rowing, sculling and water-hockey. For several miles with only slight curvature from an elevated line across could swim the Merrimack with great speed.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for constructive purposes.

SMUTS SOUNDS WARNING

Crisis May in the End Ruin

European Civilization, Says

Premier

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 14.—Premier Smuts in a speech here yesterday, dwelt gravely on the "trappily developing crisis in Europe, where forces are set going which may in the end ruin European civilization."

"The policy of the British empire," he said, "ought to be clearly defined to the world, so that there would be no doubts or misunderstandings. It should speak, the premier continued, 'in a sincere, impartial, friendly and in humble loyalty to the cause of peace, before it is too late. I trust it will realize the greatness and glory of the peaceful mission and speak the great word which, with the exception of America, it alone can add speak among the nations of the world.'

Mr. Smuts also stressed the necessity of a "sincere, impartial, friendly and in humble loyalty to the cause of peace, before it is too late. I trust it will realize the greatness and glory of the peaceful mission and speak the great word which, with the exception of America, it alone can add speak among the nations of the world."

Any balance left after the military and engineering expenses are paid will be turned into the reparations fund for the benefit of the allies.

The merchandise seized will first of all be applied on orders already placed with Germany under the reparations schedule for German products in kind, the French and the Belgians filling their own orders by compulsion if necessary. Once these individual reparations orders are filled, the seized merchandise will be sold under joint Franco-Belgian control, it was agreed, and the proceeds will be used, together with confiscated money, cash obtained from fines and other receipts to pay the expenses of the occupying forces as prior claim, only the surplus going to the reparations commission.

Premier Poincaré of France, and Premier Thomsen and Foreign Minister Jaspar of Belgium, with their advisers, approved new instructions to the Rheinland high commissioners and to General DeGaule, commanding in the Ruhr, outlining the development policy of seizure of coal, coke, minerals and money and the establishment of an accounting system for the distribution of the resulting fund. ## Satan's Empire Falling

This world has been under the permitted rule and power of Satan the prince of this, and it has caused a great amount of suffering and sorrow for the world of mankind for the past 6000 years that all may learn of the exceeding sinfulness of sin. Now the "strong man" is to be bound that he may deliver the nations and more and the Kingdom for which the world has been praying—long, "Thy Kingdom Come," is about to be set up. He whose reign it is, is about to take control and He must reign till He has put all enemies under his feet, then will come the time when peace and righteousness shall prevail and all shall be heard praising the Lord. ## WILSON'S VIEWS

Opposes Pres. Harding's Proposal for "Conditional"

American Adhesion

Favors Unconditional Ad-

hesion of U. S. to Court

Set up Under League

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Former President Wilson is opposed to President Harding's proposal for "conditional" American adhesion to the permanent court of international justice established at The Hague under the auspices of the League of Nations, the Philadelphia Public Ledger says today in a copyrighted despatch from its Washington bureau.

The despatch said that Mr. Wilson's first formal expression on international affairs since the administration submitted its plan to the senate Feb. 24 was embodied in a letter to Representative Arthur B. Hays, of Kentucky, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee who is at his home in Covington, Mo. Rouse, the despatch said, had addressed an inquiry to the former president. His reply was quoted as follows:

"My dear Mr. Rouse: In reply to your letter of March 29, let me say that I approve not of the 'conditional' but of the unconditional adhesion of the United States to the world court set up under the auspices of the League of Nations, though I think it would be more consistent with the fame of the United States for candor and courage to become a member of the League of Nations and share with the other members the full responsibilities which its covenant involves."

"Respectfully yours, 'WOODROW WILSON.'"

He was steadfast in his decision to leave the Ruhr only as Germany pays came in the form of a reaffirmation of the resolution to that effect adopted in Brussels last month.

RADIO M. D. CURES MANY

WHO ARE SICK AT SEA

By EDWARD THORNTON

NEW A. Service Staff Writer
HOBOKEN, N. J., April 14.—Feeling an invalid's pulse by radio and taking temperature readings by the foot and hand method are the newest steps in medical science.

Dr. William Irwin, ship's physician aboard the liner President Harding, has treated people by wireless on each of his last four voyages across the Atlantic.

He was the first doctor to perform a surgical operation by radio. That was in 1913 when he wirelessed from shipboard to an island in the Caribbean Sea directions for the amputation of the leg of an amputee who was dying of blood poisoning with no medical aid available.

"Thousands of cargo ships do not carry physicians," said Dr. Irwin, "and when a sailor becomes ill his chances used to be pretty slim. Now a wireless call brings diagnosis and prescription."

"On our last trip I treated a case of a surgical operation by radio. That was in 1913 when he wirelessed from shipboard to an island in the Caribbean Sea directions for the amputation of the leg of an amputee who was dying of blood poisoning with no medical aid available."

Among those whose names appear upon the bills of information, according to the newspaper, are Captain J. K. Shipwith, exalted cyclops of the Morehouse chapter of the K. K. K., his son, Oliver; Dr. B. M. McKello of Morehouse, former mayor of Mer Rouge; Laurence Calhoun of Bastrop, former deputy sheriff of Morehouse parish; W. P. Kinkadee, Kelly Harp, Newton Gray and T. J. J. Burnett, former Morehouse deputy sheriff.

The names of 60 lay, Marvin Pickert, Cud Pickert, Fred Higginbotham and Franklin Pratt, also are in the list against whom bills would be drawn according to the Times-Picayune.

At the open hearing in Bastrop last January, witnesses testified they recognized Burnett, Oliver Shipwith and Gray as members of the masked band which on Aug. 24 kidnapped Walt Daniel and T. E. Richard of Mer Rouge. Four months later two bodies found in a lake near Bastrop were identified as those of the missing men.

"These bills, he was expected to declare, will charge conspiracy to commit assault, lying in wait with a dangerous weapon on a public highway, conspiracy to commit murder, damaging or destroying telephonic lines, and other offenses."

Many of the persons against whom charges are alleged to have been made are understood to have left Morehouse parish.

It is not believed that Mr. Garrett will file the charges at Bastrop before the middle of next week.

Dr. Irwin keeps a "log" of sickness on board the President Harding. In one round trip of 25 days he had 22 cases of illness—not including sickness.

"We don't count sea-sickness," he said. "I get half a dozen to a dozen sailors a day of that kind, depending on the weather. Nowadays 75 per cent of all cases of sea-sickness can be quickly relieved."

Dr. Irwin has been in the service at sea for 22 years.

On another trip I saved a man from death by pneumonia. Wireless treatment lasted five days. Another case was the swelling of a gland under a man's ear, and a fourth was a case of two smashed fingers. All got well under wireless treatment. A man on a passing ship fell into the hold and fractured his skull and broke two ribs. I did what I could by wireless and then we stopped and took him aboard our ship, which has a hospital with 20 beds and full equipment.

"Cases of sickness at sea have diminished greatly since the development of radio. Ships that do not carry doctors always have medicine chests, so when I get a message that someone is ill I ask for a list of the other ship's prescriptions and then I send a prescription message. In the pneumonia case the captain of the other ship sent me readings of pulse, temperature and respiration three times a day."

The bills, the newspaper declared, were drawn up yesterday by Attorney-General A. V. Cucco and handed to the district attorney who had been summoned here for a conference.

CARVER, April 14.—Charles Garland had trouble enough getting rid of his $550,000 inheritance and is not at all concerned with what the American Fund for Public Service, Inc., may do with it. It is Mr. Gompers' belief that the Garland money is being used to foster revolutionary propaganda. Mr. Garland does not know it. The trustees of the fund have not consulted him, nor is he interested. His family here of several persons working on with him certain ideas of communism. Morin was scheduled to appear in the local district court this morning, but the case was dismissed here when it was learned that he had been arraigned in East Cambridge. The bigamy charge was preferred against him by Deputy Downing when he was found guilty some time ago of non-support. Marriage certificates were produced to show that he had remarried since divorcing his original wife nearly three years ago.

RECOVER FOR DAMAGES TO AUTOMOBILES

In the case of John Wessner and Joseph Staudacher, William Nichols, an action of tort by which the plaintiffs sought to recover for damages to their automobiles, which was tried before Justice Fisher at the civil session of the district court last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, a finding of guilty was returned in favor of the plaintiffs for the sum of $125. Wessner and $75.00 plus interest for Staudacher.

This was a motion picture case in which the defendant had been tried and found not guilty by superior court on charges of taking an automobile without permission and of driving recklessly, after being found guilty of both charges in the district court.

It seems that on Oct. 28 last Wessner and Nichols and other friends on a short automobile ride after which all returned to the Boston hall, where a dance was being conducted. Nichols did not return the hall and later in the evening when Wessner left the hall he found that his car had disappeared. In the meantime a car answering the description of Wessner's machine crashed into a car owned and operated by Staudacher in Lincoln street and the driver of the machine made his escape. From a description given by Staudacher, Nichols was later placed under arrest.

In district court he was charged with taking an automobile without permission and drunkenness, the charge presented by Frank Goldman, Jr., Staudacher's brother-in-law, who in superior court, where the case was presented by Assistant District Attorney Blood, the defendant was found not guilty. Wessner and Staudacher then brought civil action against Nichols through Frank Goldman and Staudacher, the case being tried by Judge Fisher.

INCREASE IN SALES OF CADILLAC CARS

Sales of Cadillac cars during the week ending March 31 surpassed sales for any preceding week in the history of the firm, according to Jay W. Buchanan, Cadillac manager of distribution. Shipments from the factory also largely surpassed shipments for any previous week during the same period. The high figures are attributed to a combination of factors, including the popularity of the Cadillac cars, the quality of the cars, and the aggressive marketing campaign.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT MARDI GRAS PARTY AT TEXTILE SCHOOL

Annual Drill and Gymnastic
Exhibition Last Night—
Medals Awarded

The ninth annual drill night and gymnastic exhibition by the boys of the Lowell high school regiment, George S. Garvey, colonel, was held last night in the Paige street annex, in the presence of a capacity gathering of interested spectators, including the mayor and several members of the school board. The feature of the evening was the awarding of medals to the winners of the individual prize drill. The judges were Major Percy J. Wilson, Major James J. Powers and Major Schuyler C. Waller, who selected as the winner of the gold medal, Sergeant Marshall Forrest; the silver medal, Sergeant Francis S. Powers and the bronze medal, Sergeant Louis Vafa. The awards were made by Mayor Donovan.

a creditable manner. The "knackout" for the individual prize was next in order and when the 46 entrants had been drilled with and without the numbers, it was found that the following seven survived for the final round: Louis Vafa, Albert Eisenbrut, Marshall Forrest, Robert Judge, Henry Clark, Francis S. Powers and Thurlow MacIntyre. These men retired from the scene temporarily to await the final drill.

The interim, the freshmen boys, under Joseph R. McLaughlin and Arthur Lynch, entertained with dumb bell exercises while the members of Companies C, F and G executed the "butter" manual in characteristic military style. Mrs. Bertha Chapman Huse played the piano accompaniment during these exercises. The next act found the freshmen boys in a series of stunts, including horizontal bar exercises, hand-springing and tumbling. To vary the program, an awkward squad drill, featuring the long and short of it in the matter of stature, was held and provided plenty of amusement for the on-lookers. Boxing bouts were also staged. The first one bringing together Marshall Forrest and Douglas Flaherty, and the second, Frank Pearson and Francis McNally on roller skates. Both bouts ended in a draw.

The competitive squad drill featuring the 1st squad of Company A, the 1st squad of Co. B, the 2d squad of Co. B and the 1st squad of Co. F was won by the latter in charge of Corporal Edward J. Kelley and composed of Privates Kelley, Greaves, Hanson, Lundgren, Ellis, Meunier and Reagan. For their efficiency, each member was awarded a ribbon and also a two-pound box of chocolates, the latter the gift of Maj. Colby Kittredge.

The final number of the evening was the march of the regiment, led by Colonel Garvey, and dress parade in which the entire regiment appeared and marched past the reviewing stand with colors flying. After the review, the regiment was dismissed and the ninth annual drill night went down in history as one of the best in years.

The first social gathering under the auspices of the Freshman class of the Lowell Textile school, which was held last evening in Southwick hall, the school auditorium, was a big success. The affair was in the form of a select Mardi Gras party and was attended by about 60 couples, several of whom were from out of town.

The hall was artistically decorated with the class colors, red and black, streamers extending from the ceiling electrically to the side walls. On the stage was a large arbor illuminated with electric lights, upon which hung the school initials, "L.T.S." Banners bearing the class year, "1923," were hung here and there, and festive banners were also hung in evidence. The whole effect was very pretty.

The costumes of the dancers varied and added greatly to the scenic effect of the hall. In the early part of the evening pleasing concert numbers were given by the St. Vincent de Paul choir of Boston, and later a concert dancing was started and continued until a reasonable hour. During intermission refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted as follows: Harry Swain, chairman; Ray Gallagher, tickets; William Robertson, decorations; Russell Carter, publicity; and Herbert Perry refreshments. The patrons and patronesses of the event were as follows: Mrs. and Mrs. H. C. Ball, Mrs. and Mrs. L. A. Jones and Mrs. and Mrs. R. W. Fox.

for it in its original estimate of appropriation? "That was the time for the board to have made known its attitude in regard to the matter of the department and to me. Under the provisions of Chapter 252, Acts of 1921, this board is instructed to file its estimates of appropriations for the year not later than the third Tuesday of January. It is a clear evasion of the provision of this act to come forward now when the budget has been approved by the city council and to ask for a supplemental appropriation. "I am not discussing the merits of the proposed increase in the ash department. It is simply too late, according to law, to provide for such an increase this year. And for the same reason I cannot approve the action of the board in increasing the salary of the ash department while at this time there exists a deficit of some $17,000.

The board of public service in its original budget for $75,000, which was approved by the city council and was allowed $74,000 by the budget and auditing commission and by the mayor and city council. If the board felt that the ash department was in need of an increase in salary, it should have made provision for it by asking for $10,000, which it now claims is the amount needed to cover the increase in the price of the ash, was before the first Tuesday of January. The board had sufficient time to do this as the committee from the ash department had presented the request for an increase to them before their budget was submitted to the budget and auditing commission and the mayor.

"The board of public service should have within the appropriation which it estimated and should avoid shifting of responsibility for the standard of wages in its departments to the mayor's office."

was compelled to go back to headquarters for another supply of the pink blossoms. The sale was rapid among the other workers and if it continues all day as it started, this morning it is bound to be a great success.

The collectors will remain on the streets until six or seven o'clock this evening, returning to headquarters for new supplies of flowers and for refreshments. Several of the striking men are on the street, appropriately badged, supervising the work of the collectors. They also are seeing that the girls receive fair treatment while on the street corners.

The collectors are all either children of the strikers or friends of the organization and they are going about their work in a business-like manner and their sales are ample proof of their whole-hearted enthusiasm in the work.

a bill is introduced in the legislature. Today Mr. Jewett is sending a letter to City Clerk Flynn, acknowledging receipt of the attested copy of the council's vote and suggesting that some person interested in the proposition be authorized to frame a bill to cover it.

"It is the usual procedure in matters of this kind," said the representative, "to have city governments instruct the city solicitor to present such a bill, either by or to the legislature, which in this case, I presume, are the members of the school committee. I do not feel that I can draw up a bill for in the first place I am not familiar with the proposition and in the second place I am their man of the house committee on rules and will be obliged to sit as a judge on the question of its admission into the general court."

Rep. Jewett explained that all bills presented to the legislature on or after the second Wednesday in January are looked upon as tardy legislation and are referred without debate to the committee on rules for a decision on the question of admission. This committee, which is a sleeping committee and the speaker's cabinet, has absolute authority on the question of admission or rejection and usually conducts a hearing before making a decision.

Only last week Rep. Jewett introduced an order in the house calling for the immediate completion of all bills and the matter of a site absolutely work within all house committees except nine and with the passage of this order, only nine committees have been granted extensions of time for the conduct of hearings. As it happens, one of this number is the committee on municipal finance, before which the Lowell matter would go provided the date of May 15 has been suggested as a date for the committee on rules.

The time extension granted to the nine committees of which the committee on municipal finance is one, is only a weekly period, or in other words, expires next Wednesday. The chances are, however, that other weekly extensions will follow, depending entirely upon the amount of unfinished business still remaining within the committee.

That rapid action is necessary on the local school house proposition, Rep. Jewett admits, for the end of the session now is hardly more than a month away.

While not being able to discuss the proposition to any great extent, because of his unfamiliarity with it, Rep. Jewett did say that the committee on municipal finance will require detailed plans of the contemplated school and will be very loath to look upon it as a favor unless such plans are submitted and the matter of a site absolutely work within all house committees except nine and with the passage of this order, only nine committees have been granted extensions of time for the conduct of hearings. ## General Alarm Fire Continued

The alarm spread to the street and someone pulled the fire bell at the corner of Southwick and Middlesex streets. This was at 1:15 o'clock.

When Chief Saunders arrived with the first alarm apparatus many lodgers were huddled in rooms on the third and fourth floors at the front of the building. Some threatened to jump, while others attempted to fight a way to safety through the smoke-filled corridors. Directions from the street prevented a panic, however, and several lodgers were seen swinging into place and down these firemen guided more than a score of men and women.

Because of the construction of adjacent buildings and with the fire burning fiercely in the rear of the hotel building, Chief Saunders ordered a second alarm at 1:40 o'clock and then followed it with a third 15 minutes later.

A low roof in the rear afforded the firemen an excellent vantage point and from there heavy streams of water were sent into the building. These were carried in from Middlesex street prevented the flames from getting a foothold in the hotel proper, although the contents of a dozen or more rooms were burned to a crisp.

The rear of chambers' restaurant, including the kitchen and store room, is a mass of debris today. The fire was caused by a gas leak in the range. The restaurant was closed at 3:30 o'clock last evening and at that time everything was in proper order. As usual, a fire was left burning in the range, but it was well banked. A new smoke pipe and new plumbing had been installed by him less than two weeks ago and he could think of no possible defect. The kitchen and entire wooden ell are so completely burned out that investigation will be difficult, said Chief Saunders today.

The ground floor of the hotel proper, however, is still intact and the only damage there came from water and smoke.

Plenty of water pressure was on tap and in addition pumping engines were at work in Middlesex and West Jackson streets. The recall was sounded at 4:23 a.m.

Annual Session of Massachusetts Setts Royal Arcanum Will Be Held in Auditorium

The 46th annual session of the Royal Arcanum of Massachusetts will be held in Liberty hall, at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium, April 25 and 27, the second time in the history of the organization, that a city in the state has been honored with the state convocation. Chairman Dr. Hugh Walker of the committee in charge of the affair, is making plans to care for over 200 delegates, representing every section of the state.

There are over 2000 members in the four Lowell councils, and it is expected that the delegates will be accompanied by members of their respective lodges. The city councils are Lowell No. 8, Highland No. 979, Industry 1722, and Mechanic No. 2061. Preparations for the convocation have been progressing rapidly during the past few weeks, the committee in charge expecting the man in the promotion of the convention.

A. W. David, treasurer and J. Oscar Philmany, secretary, principal officers of the committee, are assisting the chairman in the promotion of the convention. The program as outlined, will open with a class initiation the night before the opening of the convention in the Rochester council hall, in the C.M.A.C. building. The degree staff of the Lowell council No. 8 will take charge of the initiation ceremonies.

In the evening the banquet will be tendered the out-of-town guests at Memorial hall, in the Public Library building. The banquet will open at 6 o'clock. The public entertainment complimentary to the grand officers, delegates and their friends will be held in the Memorial Auditorium, starting at 8 o'clock. The entertainers will be the Myrtle Jordan trip of Boston, assisted by Ellen E. Cannon reader. The entertainers are considered headliners in their field and they will no doubt favor the Lowell convention members.

They are Grand Secretary Neil F. Clark, 2nd, a candidate for state officers, and Grand Treasurer, Dr. Hugh Walker for reelection or promotion on the board of trustees, and John S. Jackson, reelection or promotion for the committee on laws.

Special lectures and souvenirs will be issued to the visitors and the members of the receiving committee, as a means of identification.
